DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of claims 21-29 in the reply filed on 24 August 2009 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte

Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claims 21 and 28 recite the broad recitation insulating core based on mineral wool, and the claims also recite preferably on rock wool which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation. Similarly, Claim 22 recites an angle at substantially between 82.5° and 52.5° , preferably substantially equal to 67.5° .

Claims 21 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 21 and 28 recite “possibly comprising an exterior layer based on a thin skin of aluminum”. The scope of the claim cannot be ascertained with the claim language including the wording “possibly”, wherein it is not clear if the core includes a thin skin of aluminum or not.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 21-26 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. 4,183,379 to Marquette et al.

The patent to Marquette et al. discloses an insulating panel comprising at least one insulating core based on a mineral fiber (10) and comprising an exterior layer based on a thin skin of metal foil (10a) wherein on an exterior face of the insulating panel includes a plurality of marks that are straight and oblique with respect to a longitudinal direction of the insulating panel, with the marks forming two sets of opposing inclinations at an angle with respect to the longitudinal direction, as recited in claims 21 and 28. Though not drawn to scale, it appears that the angle is substantially between 82.5° and 52.5° . The panel includes a plurality of transverse straight marks (19) oriented at right angles to the longitudinal direction, and a plurality of longitudinal straight marks oriented parallel to the longitudinal direction. The marks are embodied on a surface of the exterior face of the exterior layer. Marquette et al. discloses the recited structure with the exception of specifically disclosing the insulation as including rock wool. The patent to Moras discloses a composite vapor barrier panel including insulation material which may include rock wool. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute for the mineral wool of Marquette et al., rock wool as suggested by Moras, wherein rock wool is one of many insulation materials utilized in the manufacturing of insulation panels.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 27 and 29 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The recited references are pertinent to Applicant's invention in disclosing insulation panels.
